MANY MEN DROWNED.

The British Steamer Virginia Ashore On Diamond Shoals.

The Crew of Twenty Six Seek Safety in Boats and Six Men Found Watery Graves—Five Rescued by Life Savers—Fate of Fifteen Unknown.

The steamer reported ashore on Diamond Shoals proves to be the British steamer Virginia, Captain Charles Samuels, from Daiquiri, Cuba, for Baltimore, with a cargo of iron ore. The steamer carried a crew of twenty-six men, including one stowaway. The steamer stranded about 6 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, May 2, during thick, heavy weather. The entire crew took to the boats and attempted to leave the ship. One boat, with fifteen of the crew, got away safely, but the other boat was swamped and six men were drowned, the remaining five making shift to get back on the steamer, where they remained until Friday morning, when the ship was discovered and they were rescued and brought ashore by the crew of the Creed's Hill and Cape Hatteras life-saving Stations.

The ship stranded on the Outer Diamond Shoal, about twelve miles from the shore, and owing to the thick and squally weather which has prevailed for several days, she was not discovered by the life-saving crews until yesterday morning. The rescue was made in the station life boats and much difficulty was encountered in getting to the ship on account of the heavy sea and high wind which prevailed. The boats starting early Friday morning and not being able to return until about 4 o'clock the same afternoon. The ship is now nearly under water and is a total loss.

The names of the saved are as follows: Captain Charles Samuels, First Officer Wyness, Second Engineer Simmons, Third Engineer George Mitchell, Seaman Martin Rasmussen. The following are known to be drowned: SAMUEL PARK, Steward, P. ST. GEORGE WALLEY, Chief Engineer, HARRIS, Seaman, OLSEN, Seaman, and two firemen, whose names are unknown.

The boat with fifteen of the crew, which got away from the ship, when last seen was running off shore before the wind and was apparently safe.

The names of those in the boat are as follows: Moore, Second Officer, Grant, Donkeyman, Turner, Cook, Thompson, Carpenter, Donald, Mess Boy, Christiansen, Jeffery, Purcell, Blanche, seamen, and stowaway; second steward and four firemen, whose names are unknown.

Captain Samuels and four men are now being cared for by Captain H. W. Styron and Captain P. H. Etheridge, of the life-saving Stations, who made the rescue.
